VIRTUOSO PEOPLE & PLACES

Exploring the globe by air, land, and sea allows Virtuoso advisors to develop the relationships, connections, and firsthand knowledge that help orchestrate your travel dreams. Here's a look at the Virtuoso community of advisors, suppliers, and clients on recent travels and Virtuoso staff at industry meetings.

Eco-fabulous. Gary Johnson, owner of Woodside Travel (in striped shirt), enjoys the breathtaking views with a group of clients at the Four Seasons Bora Bora before embarking on a Paul Gauguin cruise.

Spanish Splendor. Virtuoso's David Solis meets with advisors Narda Arias, Ana Maria Aquise, Edda Salhuana, Rosario Florez, and Gabriela Duclos at Viajes Rosario Florez in Lima, Peru.

Southern (Hemisphere) Hospitality. (L to R) Daniel Aguilera, Secretary of Tourism of Argentina, presented Virtuoso's Mauricio Leyton a letter from the president of Argentina, extending Virtuoso CEO Matthew Upchurch an official invitation to host the 2013 Virtuoso Symposium in Buenos Aires.

Bearing it All. Natural Habitat Adventures hosted Virtuoso travel advisors on a seven-day Classic Polar Bear Adventure expedition.

A Virtuoso Vintage. Nadine Jackson of McCabe World Travel (pictured in back row center, wearing white jacket) with Virtuoso Voyager Club passengers at a vineyard in Bordeaux while on a voyage aboard the Seabourn Pride.